Subject: FW: Message for field offices

FYSA – As we approach election day I have received several DHS bulletins from FPS and SMD HQs regarding suspicious activities and civil unrest/protests advising everyone to stay vigilant and stay safe. The FPS/PSO guards at the regional office have been alerted to remain highly vigilant and report any suspicious activities. If you see something say something, please contact the Federal Protective Service (FPS) directly at the Denver Mega Center (DMC) the emergency dispatch number is (877) 437-7411.

Thank you and stay safe.

Best Regards,

Diana R. Uribe

Hi Diana --

I hope you're doing well. Although most staff are working from home, wasn't sure if you wanted to distribute to the field offices for situational awareness as we come up to the elections.

Stay safe,

Hector

Interagency Security Committee Stakeholders,

A number of environmental contributors (COVID-19, polarized populace, disinformation and conspiracy theories) have the potential to increase threats to federal facilities, other symbols of governance, as well as to those who may congregate around them.

In this environment, the ISC offers the following high payoff measures for consideration to elevate the protective posture of federal facilities, the people who occupy them, and other potential targets:

- Utilize temporary barriers to create stand-off
- Limit vehicle access points
- Remove waste-bins or other containers that could conceal an explosive
- Identify and remove potential sources of make-shift weapons and projectiles
- Increase availability and stock of fire extinguishers near entrances
- Rehearse response procedures
- Increase video surveillance monitoring
- Increase occupant awareness of suspicious activity identifiers and reporting procedures
- Measure performance of ALL existing countermeasures (Intrusion Detection Systems, CCTV/VSS, locks, etc.)

We encourage you to consult the following ISC Guidance to further assist these efforts:

- (FOUO) Appendix B - Countermeasures – 2019
